Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Sermon: Preached at Littleton, Massachusetts, on the 30th of November, 1809; Being the Day of Annual Thanksgiving I have but little disposition, and as little encouragement to speak on this public occasion, unless you are prepared to hear: For whenever it shall happen, that the speaker does not care; and the hearer does not care; it must verily all be a careless-piece of business. Psalm 2d, 11th. Rejoice with trembling. It is one excellence of the holy scriptures, that they instruct us how to balance and regulate all our passions and affections. They allow us to indulge ourselves in the exercise of one affection or passion rather than in another, according as our circumstances in life vary, and as our minds are differently affected by the providence of God. Is any among you afflicted, let him pray. Is any merry, let him sing psalms. As the scenes of life are various and mixed, many duties towards God, our neighbour and ourselves, rise out of circumstances. And what is very proper and becoming us to do at one time, is very indecent for us to do at another. To every thing there is a season; and a time for every purpose under the heaven.
